Essendon Croatia may charter a plane to take fans to Adelaide for the Philips Cup match against Beograd at Hindmarsh Stadium next Wednesday night.

Croatia team manager Frank Burin said the plane could return after the match, so that fans would not have to take time off from work.

Anyone interested in flying with Croatia should contact Mr. Burin in

The Philips Cup second round starts tonight (Wednesday) with matches in Adelaide and Brisbane.

West Adelaide Hellas and Adelaide City Juventus clash at Hindmarsh Stadium at 7.30 pm, while Brisbane Lions meet Brisbane City at Perry Park at 8 pm.

There are two Cup matches at Wentworth Park in Sydney on Friday afternoon.

They are St George v. Western Suburbs at 1 pm and Hakoah-Easts v. Sydney Olympic at 3 pm.

German scheme of licensing for PSL clubs?

The Philips League may introduce club licences which can be revoked if clubs do not fulfil their obligations.

PSL manager John Frank said he would recommend the licensing scheme to the league's council of clubs.

A similar scheme exists in West Germany, one of the countries Mr. Frank visited on a recent study tour.

He spoke about the tour to a meeting of the Australian Soccer Press Association at the Vineyard Restaurant in St Kilda last week.

"I would like to see the ASF-PSL relationship patterned on the German set-up more than any other," Mr. Frank said.

He said the German Bundesliga licenses its clubs on a yearly basis.

"In theory, if Moench-gladbach wins the championship, it can still be asked to appear before a special tribunal to explain why it has not fulfilled the undertakings given the previous year. These could be in relation to juniors, finance, ground improvements, or increasing crowds," Mr. Frank said.

"If a club does the wrong thing, if it fails to meet its obligations or if it incurs excessive debts, its licence can be revoked, meaning it is expelled from the league."

Mr. Frank made a detailed study of league and club operations in West Germany, England and the United States.

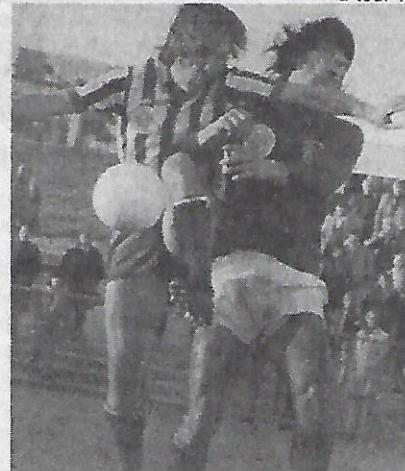

On the financial set-up in Germany, he explained that the German Federation (DFB) receives all money from international matches and 4% of gate receipts of all Bundesliga matches.

Bundesliga clubs pay a nominal affiliation fee of DM100 (about $30) and lodge a security bond of DM200,000 (about $60,000).

Money earned by the league from commercial endorsements and other sources is channelled back to the clubs.

CHARLTON SET FOR NEWCASTLE

The great Bobby Charlton is about to join Newcastle KB United.

One of the finest midfield players the world has seen, Charlton was capped 106 times for England and has scored more goals for England than any other player. He will play guest games for Newcastle, take part in promotion and probably run a few coaching clinics for youngsters.

It is likely that Charlton will play in a PSL match planned for Lismore later this year.

The match will be in addition to a tournament run for Northern Rivers clubs and organised with the help of Newcastle and Tooth's Breweries.

fair as they would provide most of the spectators.

One counter proposal is that the PSL clubs be introduced only in the final stages, to join five others in a quarter-final group.

The VSF has asked the Philips League clubs to put their views by August 8.

There will probably be a meeting between VSF officials and leaders of Hellas, Alexander and JUST to negotiate the terms of the PSL clubs' participation.

Ampol Cup may include the 'big 3'

Melbourne's three Philips League clubs and the First Division champion have been invited to take part in next summer's Victorian Ampol Cup.

However, there is disagreement about how gate takings from the preliminary rounds are to be split up.

The 16 teams in the competition are to be split up into four groups of four each, playing double-headers to decide which of them advances to the finals.

The VSF proposes that takings from these matches be split equally between all clubs.

However, the PSL clubs believe this would be

uhlsport Double-Bandages

Double-bandages for sportsmen which are hard themselves but don't want to be pinched by uncomfortable bandages. Uhlsport double-bandages are the solution of all problems regarding the slipping and pinching, for they are made of 2 layers which do not impede their function.

Layer A: is close to the skin and moves with the part of the body concerned.

This layer is very sweat-absorbent, wear-comfortable and resistant.

Layer B: takes up blows and scratches and also retains dirt.

This layer is highly resistant and abrasion-proof, due to the special synthetic material.

The special structure of double bandages has many advantages:

1. Good fit and no slipping.
2. Comfortable wearing at the inside and high resistance at the outside.
3. On account of the two layers and special material they have a better elasticity than conventional bandages.

Uhlsport double-bandages are the best solution for sportsmen, orthopedically and medically.

LEAGUE FINES MARCONI $1500

The Phillips League management committee has imposed fines totalling $1500 on Marconi and a $300 fine on Brisbane City for breaches of PSL rules.

The fines were imposed at a PSL management committee meeting in Adelaide.

League manager, John Frank, said the main item of discussion was the so called "Marconi affair."

Three weeks ago Marconi was fined $2000 by the Australian Soccer Federation for refusing to release Peter Shand and Paul Degney for Australia's game against Greece.

However Marconi took the ASF to court and had the fine and suspensions declared invalid.

Mr Frank said the Council of Clubs has decided the matter should be re-opened.

"The PSL committee debated the Marconi issue and found the club guilty of breaking PSL rules which request all league clubs to release to the ASF any club players for national or state representative matches," Mr Frank said.

The club was fined $1000 for this breach."

Marconi was fined a further $500 for an incident at Bosley Park last Sunday week in which a spectator jumped the fence and attacked a linesman.

Domazos to AEK

Mimis Domazos, 37, has been transferred from Panathinaikos to AEK Athens for a transfer fee of about $112,000.

Another Greek super star, George Delkaris, 26, has switched from Olympiakos to Panathinaikos for $300,000.

The draw for Greek teams in the first round of European competitions, is:

CHAMPIONS' CUP: AEK v. Porto (Portugal).

UEFA CUP: Panathinaikos v. Pitesti (Romania), Olympiakos v. Levski (Bulgaria).

CUP WINNERS' CUP: PAOK v. Servette (Switzerland.)

We were wrong

"Soccer Action" wrongly reported that Brian O'Donnell of Western Suburbs had replaced during the match against Footscray J.U.S.T. a few weeks ago. In fact O'Donnell played the whole game and it was Drews who was replaced. We were also wrong in reporting that O'Donnell was replaced in the game against Adelaide Juventus in Adelaide. O'Donnell's rating for that game, given at the time as 4, should in fact have been 6.

... and Rasic punch costs City $300

"The management committee examined the evidence as presented by various officials, and decided that Marconi be fined $500 for failing to control the crowd and protect officials, as provided in the PSL rules," Mr Frank said.

"The committee further issued a strong recommendation that the club provide adequate fencing around the perimeter of the playing area at Bossley park."

"The club was also advised to have officials patrol the ground during games," he said.

Mr Frank said a third incident, also involving Marconi, was discussed at the meeting.

The matter involved an incident at Brisbane City on June 25, in which Marconi coach Role Rasic was struck by a Brisbane City official.

"After considering reports from both clubs, it was decided that Marconi be censured for the conduct of some of its players and officials after the game," Mr Frank said.

"In particular, unseemly language was used by players after the game."

"But," said Mr Frank, "the management committee will not tolerate physical violence amongst either players or officials."

He said Brisbane City was fined $300 for the admitted assault on Rasic, and the club has been directed that the official involved in the incident make an unconditional apology to the Marconi coach.

Earlier, the Council of Clubs meeting decided to recommend to the Australian Soccer Federation that 1979 fixtures be held along similar lines to this years.

Mr Frank said it would be recommended that games start in early March, and the first round of the Phillips Cup by played on Anzac Day, with the second round on a weekend about half way into the year.

"This would mean there would be no midweek matches next year," Mr Frank said.

Another recommendation by the Council of Clubs is that there be a two-week break in mid-season for international games organised by the Australian Soccer Federation and the various states.

Slowly but surely, South Melbourne Hellas coach Dave MacLaren is assembling the most powerful soccer squad in Australia.

The signing of George Campbell from Aberdeen and Alun Evans from Walsall have already proved to be master strokes.

Born in Arbroath, Scotland, Munro played 50 games for Dundee United, 43 for Aberdeen, almost 400 for Wolves and was bought by Celtic last year for $90,000.

Originally a midfielder, he scored 14 goals for Dundee United, eight for Aberdeen and about 20 for Wolves.

He was in the Wolves team that lost 0-1 and drew 2-2 with Australia in 1972.

Bergmann, 22, has represented Central Sweden and scored a hat-trick in a Swedish Cup match two weeks ago.

MacLaren says Bergmann is "so fast that he can catch pigeons."

Saturday games will go

Matches to be shown on the Philips Top Soccer TV programme will not have to be played on Saturdays next year.

The 0-10 network has agreed to cover the games on Sundays.

PSL clubs, particularly in Melbourne, have lost many thousands of dollars this year and last because they have had to play TV games on Saturday, which has always been a bad day for soccer.

Nazi atrocities shown to motivate Manly

Richard Alagic, coach of NSW State League club Manly, has resigned after sensational press reports that he showed his players a film of Jews being shot at Auschwitz to motivate them for a match.

While showing the film before the game against Melita Eagles two weeks ago, Alagic, according to Press reports, told his players: "Just imagine that was your mother, father, son or daughter and go out and revenge them."

Manly won 1-0.

Centre back Bruce Doyle was quoted as saying afterwards: "The film showed people in the trenches who had been shot."

"It gave us a bit of motivation to get out there and win."

The players were apparently shown the film of Nazi atrocities only 10 minutes before they took the field against Melita Eagles.

Alagic and Manly president George Dick were to have appeared in front of the NSW Soccer Federation executive last night to explain.

The Prime Minister, Mr. Fraser, is to be invited to the Phillips League presentation night at the Wentworth Hotel in Sydney on October 12.

Mr. Fraser was recruited to soccer in May when he became patron of Canberra City.

He has invited all the Canberra players to dine with him at the Lodge on August 23.

The PSL presentation night, organised by the Australian Soccer Player Association, sponsored by Philips Industries, is being referred to as the 'Night of Nights.'

The Australian Player of the Year, best under 21 player, Coach of the Year and Referee of the Year will be named at the presentation dinner.

Two sent off as Monaro loses

Toongabbie turned in one of their best performances of the season to defeat Monaro 3-0 at Queenbeyan.

Toongabbie led 2-0 at halftime and scored third goal by Benito da Vale.

Referee Dennis McDermott sent off Jim Izzet (Toongabbie) and John Forward (Monaro) in the first half. Izzet was reported by a linesman for elbowing Forward. Forward allegedly kicked the ball away after a penalty had been awarded.

Toongabbie hit the front after two minutes when they received a penalty converted by Peter.

Toongabbie went further ahead despite being one down when former Monaro player Glen Bonwick converted a penalty.

Monaro's Sebastian Giampaoello missed a chance to bridge the deficit from a penalty minutes from half time.

Toongabbie went ahead early in the second half, catching the Monaro defence off guard.

Larry Armatage and Benito da Vale split the remaining defenders for a score to score.

Outside Normansfield and Borwick were outstanding for the winners.

Avala gained a hard fought 1-0 win over Arncliffe at Mona Park

Avala came after great lead-up play by Yury Kasumovic who drew the defence and centred.

Jim Megill gathered the ball in his stride and then thundered shot from 25 metres past keeper Norm Rose.

Avala deserved their win as they withheld a strong and determined challenge from Arncliffe.

Only the experience of their defence, led by Alex Gray, steered them through some hectic periods.

Sutherland assured themselves of a semi final berth by crushing Yugal 4-0 at Concord Oval Yugal's Miro Piper was sent off in the dying moments of the game for a foul.

From the outset it was all Sutherland with their first goal coming when a mis-directed back pass from the Yugal defence was pounced on by Pete Beggs, who crossed to an unmarked Craig Hall who scored easily.

A fine combination of two-touch football led up to Sutherland's second goal.

Steve Mandz's chip was headed down by Pete Beggs into the path of Craig Hall who once again made no mistake, volleying the ball past a diving Mark Rose.

Sutherland's domination continued after the interval and in the 62nd minute Jim Baisterfield's header was well met by Rich Turner who coolly side-stepped the defence to score in the left corner.

Two minutes from time, Craig Hall completed the hat trick when he easily beat two defenders, rounded the keeper and placed the ball into an empty net.

Two second half goals within nine minutes gave APIA a well deserved 2-0 win over Marrickville Olympic at Lambert Park.

Ally Link lofted the first from a cross and was cleared on the net and the second was converted by Billy Griffith when he slammed a pass from Terry Butler into the corner.

APIA defender Nobby Porter had an outstanding game and was well supported by Mark Polkinghorne and mid-fielder Ken Lindsay. Terry Butler and Griffith were dangerous attackers.

Marrickville had few good players but Steve Kable, a forward and mid-fielder Eric Williams played hard all day. 18-year-old Peter Kethos who replaced John Karapashos in the 24th minute, also did well.

Melita's hopes of winning this year's title took a Bankstown notched only their second win of the season when they overcame a宿敌 Manly 2-0 at Soccertown.

A宿敌 won the game riddled with crude tackling and sloppy passing.

The win has kept alive Bankstown's chances of remaining in the State League First Division next season.

It was a great start for caretaker coaches Roger Bamford and Jerry Lester who took over earlier in the week following Alec Kent's resignation.

New signing, Bill Angepole, opened the scoring in the 31st minute.

The Towns continued to surge forward in the second half and finally broke through a long time ten minutes from full-time when Denis Daley rifled home a simple goal from three metres.

Cumberland or Croatia will win this year's FA Federation Cup.

Along with Campbelltown, Burwood and Canterbury, Cumberland have qualified for the semi finals.

Cumberland beat Para Hills 1-0 after extra time while Norlungs powered to a 3-1 over Third Dividers Adelaide City.

Cumberland beat Canterbury 2-1 in the match of the day which produced little excitement.

The league leaders led 2-0 at half time with a 27th minute shot from a couple of metres.

By MENO TOUTSIDIS

Croatia had an effortless 2-0 win over Adelaide University who never threatened the first division status.

Victor pulled one back in the 70th minute with a powerful John Fyffe header after an excellent corner from Jim Glorgianni.

Victor then converted an equaliser but with Glorgianni a second-half substitute, fighting a lone battle, Cumberland had little trouble holding their lead.

Bigru Kotlar added a second midway through the second half with a lethal 25 metre shot.

The ball bounced to a crowd of players but it was cleared, and Cumberland lost their chance of grabbing a point.

Charles Harrow opened the scoring in the 20th minute when he snapped a rebound from the cross bar.

Kelso and Perry wouldn't give in

By BRUCE WADDELL

South Melbourne Hellas emerged triumphant from a spectacular feast of goalscoring action to edge out Brisbane City 4-3 at Perry Park.

Although Hellas had not beaten or scored a goal against City in three previous league meetings, they were thought the home side could have come through with such honour.

Hellas is a tremendous side, which in this match came close to the total football concept, and City bowed to a better all round team yet made such a race of it with sheer guts.

It looked like there would be one-way traffic when Hellas took only 10 minutes to open up, with Duncan Cummings cleverly slotting away a perfect pass from George Christopoulos.

It could easily have been 2-0 after 18 minutes when Ristovski crossed and Big Shuster Barlowd jumped Brian Kibbey to ram a tremendous header at Kim Wieslar, but the City keeper dived brilliantly to deflect it onto the crossbar.

Then the unexpected happened. In the 22nd minute, Kelso, playing in only his second PBL match, ran down the left in pursuit of a good pass from Roberto Echeverria.

Kelso cracked a left-foot shot past Reilly onto the bar and Marley followed through to nod the rebound home.

Five minutes later, Hellas could scarcely believe it (nor could the Brisbane supporters) when Kelso scored a magnificent individual goal, this time charging into the right-hand side of the box before slipping his shot under the diving Reilly.

Hellas left winger, George Campbell, as expected, was creating havoc at times, particularly from free kick situations.

Hellas came back with the equaliser eight minutes from half-time when a long ball down the right from Mike Pye found Alan Evans, who made a lot of ground before crossing.

Campbell attempted to shoot, but there was some feeling it may have been a clever dummy. It resulted in the ball reverting to the unmarked Christopoulos, who hammered it into the corner.

City responded by taking the lead again right on half-time when another bullocking run by Kelso and a cross ended when Marley headed a fraction wide.

The game was still only two minutes old when Hellas asserted authority with a 3-2 lead.

It resulted from a free kick just outside the box. In fact the only souring note on the Hellas perfor-

Grujicic could have added a second!

Fitzroy Alexander has pressed the panic button. A discontented John Margaritis admitted after their second defeat that Sunday's result was the result of being short-staffed.

"We have a bare bench," he said.

People have been talking to me for hours about Theo Salamidis and Mike Micevski as potential permanent team members.

Well, circumstances dictated their use this time for Arthur McMillan failed the pre-game fitness test. Andrew Sotakas left the field injured, so Salamidis and George Cole was revived with injections before the game, following a week — long sickness.

However, Micevski and Salamidis that they not ready yet.

West moves to top with battling draw

By LAURIE SCHWAB

West Adelaide Hellas climbed to the top of the table by fighting back with 10 men after being two goals down.

West should beat Brisbane City at home on Sunday in a confidence-booster for the big clash with Marconi at Hindmarsh Stadium on July 30.

The league leadership will be at stake in that game providing Marconi beats South Melbourne Hellas in Sydney next Sunday.

And that will not be easy for Marconi, as Frank Munro, the Wolves and Celtic defender, will make his debut for Hellas.

Hellas, West Adelaide, Hakoah and Marconi all have an equal chance of winning the championship.

J.U.S.T.'s confidence was boosted by the two goals it scored against West Adelaide and by the improved form of striker Dragomir Vasic.

This Sunday at Schintler Reserve, J.U.S.T. should pick up both points when it meets Olympic, which is hampered by the departure of Peter Marinello, who has returned to Scotland.

Fitzroy Alexander's ambition of reaching the top of the table suffered a temporary setback when he lost to Canberra, but Alexander should resume its bid with a victory over St George at Middle Park on Sunday.

J.U.S.T. outplayed West Adelaide for much of their match and if it maintains that form, it should win most of the remaining matches.

There are against Canberra, St George, Olympic, Newcastle, Brisbane Lions and Fitzroy Alexander.

In the mid-week lead-up to J.U.S.T.'s clash with St George, West Adelaide coach Cedric Grujicic feared that Joe Piclano, Joe Palinkas and Andy Kazil would not be able to play.

However, Piclano and Palinkas recovered from injuries and Kazil shook off the flu.

Palinkas' absence was not as effective as he usually is. The injury may still have been troubling him.

West Adelaide had its usual line-up, minus giant striker Dave Pillans.

As usual, West's strength was its midfield. Neil McGachey played well as did Peter Marconi, West Adelaide, coach Cedric Grujicic.

He noticed that Ristovski, who cut a foul on Peter Marconi, first attempt was foiled by Crook and his follow-up hit the side netting.

Extra push was provided by Barry Reynolds coming up from right back.

J.U.S.T.'s main thrust was provided by Mendo Ristovski, Zdravko Lolic, Andy Kazil, Zdravko Lolic and Joe Kazil, who had a fine second half, but missed a few good chances.

J.U.S.T. failed to exploit a strong wind advantage in the first half during which West Adelaide forced Dennis Boland to make some spectacular saves.

Boalund could only deflect a long shot from Kazil, but he recovered well to hold the follow-up attempt of Boyle.

David Webb of QPR — it was his penalty Christidis saved to put AEK into the UEFA Cup semi-finals.

Save in Athens gave Christidis new lease of life

By MENO TOUTSIDIS

"Well, I can't stop them all. Some get away."

Christidis, 34, and the man Greeks call "Mr Penalty" was referring to Murray Barnes' 72nd minute penalty kick which gave Australia a 1-1 draw in their recent international with Greece at the SCG.

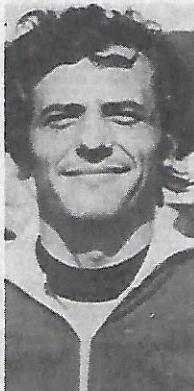

Most goalkeepers fear the moment referees point to the penalty spot, but Nikolaos Christidis sees it as his greatest challenge.

"Let's face it," he says, "if it weren't for penalty kicks I wouldn't be here right now."

Christidis has a point. About 18 months ago he was sitting on the reserves bench watching current Greek champions AEK play Queens Park Rangers in a UEFA Cup quarter final match in Athens.

The Greeks were leading 3-0, (QPR had won the first leg in London two weeks earlier 3-0) and two minutes of extra time remained. The match was destined to be settled with penalties.

It was at this point that Christidis, whom many fans believed had his best years behind him after playing 28 times for Greece, came on as the substitute goalkeeper.

Nikolaos Christidis,

The 40,000 Greek fans couldn't understand the move, but it didn't take them long to figure it out.

The match went into penalties and Christidis stopped the first QPR attempt. The Greeks also missed a penalty and with QPR ready to take the last kick of the evening, the Greeks led 4-3.

David Webb was to take the last penalty. The man who scored the winning goal for Chelsea in the 1970 FA Cup, final replay against Leeds, struck the ball hard and high but Christidis saved it.

The Greeks were through to the semi-finals and Christidis was starting a new life.

"Yes," he says, "it was an unforgettable night. 1977 was to be my last year but here I am in 1978 and getting ready for the next World Cup."

Christidis paused for a moment and continued, "To tell you the truth, the way I felt after the game with the fans chanting and chanting and refusing to go home I didn't care if I didn't play again."

"I reached the highest point in my career that night but of course when the euphoria died down I had different ideas."

What about that Webb penalty kick, can he still recall it?

"Yes, I was afraid from the very start. I was convinced Webb was going to shoot to the left hand corner but at the very last second I remembered that when I saved a Peter Osgood penalty two years earlier he shot to the right. Webb, of course, played with Osgood at Chelsea then, so I dived to the right and I saved it."

What is the secret of saving penalty kicks?

"Excellent reflexes and plenty of good luck. You can be agile as a panther but unless you dive in the correct corner you may as well try to leap to the moon."

Christidis saves during the Greece v Australian XI game in Melbourne.

Christidis played in all three recent matches against Australia but had little to do.

In the Melbourne international where the Greeks won 2-1, Gary Cole beat him with a great second half goal but in the other two games he was rarely tested.

But Christidis expects plenty of action against Russia in September in Greece's opening European Nations Cup match.

"It will be very difficult to beat the Russians in Moscow but we have a very fine team," he says.

"There will be up to four changes to this present team but the most important will be the inclusion of Tasos Mavros (AEK).

He is only 21, but he can take on any defender in the world. Take a note of his name, he will be making headlines in the next few years."

Mavros, who scored two goals in that 3-0 win over QPR, broke his right arm a week before the Greeks left for Australia, during the Greek Cup final (AEK 2-0) in which he scored.

And what of Australia?

"Very impressed. I think if your new coach can bring together your best footballers and get the best out of them we may well see Australia in Spain in 1982."

Here is what leading Makedonia personalities have to say about the big match:

PETER LAUMETS, goalkeeper: "The result will definitely not be the same as the last two times we met. I don't think the Croatia forwards will get a shot in."

ERIC LESBIREL, player-coach: "It will be a good game to watch and we have nothing to lose, everything to gain. We may not have any special tactics prepared. We will play our normal game."

JOHN BERNARD, Midfielder: "The way we are playing, nobody will stop us. I promise our supporters that I will score at least one goal."

S. PAZOV, treasurer: "It will be a hard-fought game. If Makedonia performs the way it has in its best games, we should win."

CHRIS SOKLEV, team manager: "It is the game of the year. If our midfield performs well, we should win."

JOHN ZIKOS, vice-president: "Croatia is a good team, but Makedonia will do its very best to win."

JOHN BERNARD, Midfielder: "It will be a hard game. Whoever scores first will win. This match is worth four points to us."

PETER DANIELS, executive member: "This is the game of the year. On recent performances, Makedonia should win."

One aspect of the Makedonia/Croatia game — the duel of the two coaches — takes on a new dimension when statistics are studied closely.

The tactics and manoeuvres employed by Billy McArthur of Croatia and Eric Lesbirel of Makedonia will have a big bearing on the game but figures show, in terms of success, Lesbirel has the edge.

The former New Zealand international coach of Makedonia after round four. At that stage, the team had lost three games and drawn one. However, since then Makedonia hasn't lost a game and has scored 25 goals. Lesbirel has a 94% success rate.

McArthur took over after round seven. His first game as coach ended in defeat, but since then the team has a 100% record. In five games under McArthur, Croatia has scored 12 goals. His success rate is 83%. Croatia's longest unbeaten run is seven games.

These figures could be ignored, but the success-hungry Croatians don't like being second best and will no doubt be out to rectify the situation.

Makedonia knows what it's like to finish second. Twice this season it has been beaten by Croatia, but most Macedonian supporters are satisfied of a different result this time.

Any reader of daily papers will find a mass of figures about V.F.U. football on the sporting pages. Each players' performance is analysed, listing kicks and hand passes, number of remarks, etc. It's not possible to do the same in soccer, but here are some interesting statistics from "Soccer Action" records on the State League.

VOJTEK THE

The presence of Billy Vojtek in the Croatia team is a bad omen for Makedonia. The former Socceroo has never finished on the losing side and has scored many goals for Croatia against Makedonia.

Vojtek has been a 'boycie' man to Makedonia since 1964 when, as a 19-year-old, he helped Croatia win the First Division championship and gain promotion to the State League. The runner up that year was ... you guessed it, Makedonia.

206 goals were scored, at an average of 2.8 per game, and 17 per round.

No team scored in every round. Croatia and Slavia were the nearest to achieving this feat, scoring in all but one match they played.

The longest unbeaten run is nine by Makedonia, while Albion Leyland and Ringwood had the most losses in succession — five.

Albion and Green Gully failed to win an away game in the first 12 rounds, and Ringwood didn't win at home in the same period.

Makedonia hasn't conceded a goal at the club's home ground — B.T. Connor Reserve — since Lesbirel became coach. The team scored 25 goals in eight games under Lesbirel — an average of 3.1 per game.

Frankston City was undefeated at home until the club moved from Seaford Reserve to as take chances he must put as much pressure as possible on Gardiner when the Croatia sweeper has possession.

Gardiner starts many attacking moves with his accurate passing, or runs with the ball from defence to midfield. If he is given the time to do these things, it will prove disasterous for Makedonia.

The Makedonia midfielders must not give the ball to McMillan in their air. Kokoska is rarely beaten in heading duels, so it's pointless to play high balls. Early passes that will allow McMillan to use his pace are needed.

• Croatia has very fast wingers. If Tommy Cumming has one of those days when he's unbeatable, there's not much Makedonia can do.
Makedonia right back Lube Petrovski must try to curb his attacking instincts when Cumming is around. Petrovski contributes well to the attack with his overlaps and penetrating runs, but if caught upfield, he'd have little chance of recovery on the speed Cumming.

• Ante Bilever the left back, will have to mark John Bernard, very closely. Bernard doesn't play as a regular outright forward, and often wanders into midfield to pick up the ball. If given the space, he is a big threat.
He can shoot powerfully, as well as set up plays with quick 1-2's. Alan Kerr may be given the job of shadowing Bernard, or be instructed to pick him up when Croatia loses possession.

• Makedonia's defence is not as tight as it could be. Centre back's Gary Hooper and Tom Brewerton lack pace — and pace is the strength of the men they face.

It's hard to predict what the pattern of the game will be. The Ampol Cup final was played at a hectic pace, and was very physical.

Croatia attacks as a team, and builds up well. Its wingers, as stated, are one of the strength of the team. Makedonia faces the danger of either Cumming or Billy Vojtek getting behind the team's defence.

Makedonia is a shock attack team. The goalscoring responsibility lies mainly with McMillan and Bernard, who make the most of any openings.

Billy McClymont is a midfielder capable of playing these killer balls. He likes to go forward, after he can't seem to neglect his defensive duties because Bilever lies deep and Lesbirel rarely commits himself to go forward. The player-coach is a general in the midfield, and is playing his best soccer since arriving from Perth.

I'm not going to make a prediction on which team will win. However, I will not be surprised if the game finishes in a draw.

Bayern completes second year without an away win

KOELN'S TITLE, 8 MIL. WATCH

Bayern Muenchen completes its second year without an away win... Hertha BSC threatened with having its licence revoked... Stuttgart players collect $65,000 each on top of their salaries... and an official inquiry into Moenchengladbach's 12-0 win in the last round of the season.

That's the big news with which the German Bundesliga season drew to a close.

But before we discuss those points, let's have a look at the new German champion, 1. FC Koeln, coached by Hennes Weisweller.

Koeln won the first Bundesliga championship in 1964 and had to wait until now to repeat that success. This time Koeln went one better, adding the Cup as well. The double had been achieved previously by Schalke in 1937 and by Bayern Muenchen in 1969.

Koeln has an excellent defence in goalkeeper Schumacher, Konopka, Gerber, Strack and Zimmersmann. The average age of those players is only 23½, yet most are internationals.

The midfield trio of Culmann (he played against Australia in the 1974 World Cup finals), Flohé and Neumann, is considered the best in Germany. Weisweller says: "They can do everything — cover, organise, make and score goals. After all, they have scored 29 goals between them in the League."

In attack, Koeln has Dieter Mueller, Germany's top scorer, Belgian Roger van Gool, and Japanese Okudera.

Willmer and Prestin are among the most talented reserves.

In mid-January, Koeln had a lead of six points over runner-up Borussia Moenchengladbach but on April 1, Gladbach caught up when Koeln lost 0-1 to Eintracht Frankfurt.

And so the championship was decided on goal average, when Koeln won its last match 5-0 against relegated St Pauli. Gladbach seemed to have no hope at all, but Gladbach came so close by beating Dortmund 12-0 in the last match.

Those 12 goals were not enough, but charges that Dortmund had thrown the match led to an official inquiry by the German Football Association (DFB).

The enquiry found that there had been trouble behind the scenes at Dortmund for some time. Manager Otto Rehhagel had clashed openly with goalkeeper Peter Endrulat, and then there was the shock announcement that Volker Gross would be bought from Schalke to replace Endrulat the following season. As it turned out, the talk was premature, but it so unnerved Endrulat that he had a shocking match against Gladbach, as did the rest of the Dortmund team.

Rehhagel was sacked after the game, and replaced by former international forward Sigi Held. The players were fined about $800 each.

Meanwhile, Bayern Munich ended the season as the only team without an away win. Bayern has not won an away game since November 27, 1976.

The only team unbeaten at home was Hertha BSC of West Berlin, but Hertha has been threatened with having its licence revoked because of debts said to be more than $700,000.

Total Bundesliga attendance for the season was 8,043,000 — a record, and the most popular club was VfB Stuttgart, whose 17 home games were watched by 918,005 fans, an average of 54,000 a match.

Stuttgart finished fourth and qualified for the UEFA Cup.

As the players' earnings are related to crowd figures, each player received $65,000 each on top of their monthly salaries. This was made up of about $38,000 in percentage of gate receipts, $12,000 for avoiding relegation in the first year since being promoted, $4000 for qualifying for the UEFA Cup and $11,000 as a points bonus.

Moenchengladbach will be a changed team next season as Wimmer and Wittkamp are retiring, and Hamburg will retain Kevin Keegan despite all the talk that he would be leaving.

Cajkovski from AEK to Zurich

Zlatko "Tachik" Cajkovski, 54, has been appointed coach of Swiss club FC Zurich.

Zurich has also engaged Yugoslav international forward Jurica Jerkovic from Hajduk Split.

Cajkovski was capped 57 times for Yugoslavia and played for the Rest of the World in 1953.

He has coached successfully with Bayern Muenchen and 1. FC Koeln in West Germany. Last season he led AEK Athens to the Greek League Cup double. His salary at AEK was reported to be $5000 a month, but he expects to be just as well off in Switzerland.

Cajkovski replaces former Zurich coach "Timo" Konietzka, a German who left in record time to take over Young Boys of Berne. Konietzka had led Zurich in more than 300 matches.

Meanwhile, the Swiss Football Federation (SFV) is making plans to change the league set-up — one of the most unusual in the world. At the moment, the 12-team First Division plays home and away and is then split up into two halves — the top half playing for the championship, the bottom half fighting against relegation.

Going into the smaller group, the clubs take half points total with them, with one point being rounded off upwards.

This system provides each club with 32 league fixtures, in addition to the SFV and League Cups.

But the new proposal is that the First Division revert to a straight league competition, with clubs playing each other three times, giving a total of 14 teams each.

"Tschik" Cajkovski

33 matches.

The second division is to be increased to 28 clubs, divided into two regional leagues of 14 teams each.

Schoen's farewell

well and against Austria they played very badly.

"I don't usually criticise my players, but too many of them didn't play as they can and should."

Schoen singled out mid-fielder Rainier Bonhof for criticism. "I'm sure we would have done so much better in this tournament if Bonhof had played the way he did in 1974," Schoen said.

Cramer move

A report from Frankfurt says that Delmar Cramer has been signed by a club in Saudi Arabia for an enormous but undisclosed fee.

Meanwhile, former Australian national coach Joe Venglos has signed an air-mail contract as national coach of European champion Czechoslovakia.

Ardiles, Villa may

LONDON. — The shock signing of Argentine World Cup stars Osvaldo Ardiles and Ricardo Villa by English club Tottenham Hotspur seems likely to spark a major row in British soccer.

A longstanding Football League ban on foreign players was lifted last month, and Tottenham Manager Keith Burkinshaw shocked the soccer world when he captured the signatures of midfield players Ardiles and Villa in Buenos Aires.

But the Professional Footballers' Association appear likely to oppose the granting of work permits because there is no reciprocal arrangement for British stars to play in Argentina.

The Argentine pair should be granted permits within a month of their application being received.

Work permits are issued to people who have a job waiting for them, provided the employer has tried and failed to recruit suitable talent in this country," a British Government spokesman said.

"It is a situation that cannot be dismissed lightly," Lloyd said.

"We could be caught up in something that is detrimental to the game in this country as a whole, both at club and international level."

And a League spokesman said "I do not foresee any difficulties."

"It was agreed last month that clubs should be permitted to play up to two foreign-born players, and it seems logical that the management committee will accept the registrations of Ardiles and Villa."

Burkinshaw splashed out over 700,000 sterling (1,148,000 Aust. dollars) for the Argentina stars

Madrid and Juventus to challenge Liverpool

Real Madrid, having won the championship of Spain, will be one of the most formidable obstacles to Liverpool winning its third European Cup in a row.

Liverpool won its second European Cup by beating FC Bruges of Belgium 1-0 in one of the most nondescript finals on record. The Reds won their first Cup against Borussia Moenchengladbach last year.

Liverpool obviously deserved those two victories and there was little doubt that the Reds were the best team in Europe during those two seasons.

But the presence of Real Madrid and other formidable teams Juventus, PSV Eindhoven, FC Koeln and Dynama Klev will make Liverpool's third European Cup campaign much more difficult.

Real Madrid has won the Cup six times — more often than any other team — and although the last victory was back in 1966, the present team, featuring brilliant individuals Stielike of Germany, Wolff of Argentina and the courageous striker Santillana, is capable of breaking the 12-year drought.

Juventus had no less than 10 men in Italy's World Cup squad — Zoff, Cabrini, Cuccureddu, Gentile, Maderia, Scirea, Benetti, Tardelli, Causio and Bettiga.

If Liverpool can win the European Cup against opposition like that, it will certainly be remembered as one of the greatest teams the world has seen.

The era of Greig

Glasgow Rangers are about to enter the era of John Greig.

That may seem a bit nonsensical as Greig has, after all, been associated with Rangers for 16 years.

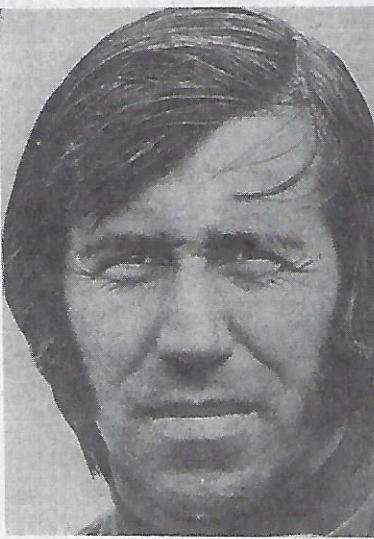

However, whereas he has been a player until now, Greig is now manager of the great Scottish club — the position he has aimed for these past few years as he sensed his playing career drawing to a close.

He has come out with much style, helping Rangers win the Premier League championship, the Scottish Cup and the League Cup. While it was a memorable last season for Greig the player, it will also prove a hard act to follow for Greig the manager.

John Greig made his debut for Rangers against Airdrie in 1962, after playing for the Junior club Edina Hearts.

Actually he was a Hearts fanatic in his youth and it was always his dream to play for Hearts one day.

But with Hearts he would never have experienced the glory he achieved at Ibrox — two Player of the Year awards, championships and Cups galore and of course 44 international caps for Scotland.

John Greig — replaced Jock Wallace as manager of Rangers.

"When Rangers signed me I was a bit overawed by all the big name players around me," he says. It was a new world and it is just marvellous to think I played my part in their more recent history as a player and hope to play an even bigger part as manager.

"I have never hidden my ambition to become a manager. I can't think what I would be like without football. I just don't know what I would do with my time. I would drive the wife crazy, hanging around the house all the time."
